REPLY FROM KREMLIN IS UNDER STUDY

Western Powers Meet On Berlin Crisis With Prospect of Framing Joint Demand

TRUCE IN PALESTINE

Paris, Oct. 14.—(P)—Western power delegates met today on the Berlin crisis and authoritative sources said they were framing a joint demand for Security Council action to lift the Soviet blockade.

The Council takes up the Berlin issue again tomorrow. Hope vanished for mediation outside the Council with Russia's reported rejection of conciliation efforts by the so-called neutral states.

American, British and French delegates studied the Kremlin's answer to the neutral states' mediation efforts. The content of the Soviet note still was not made public, but western sources said it set back the Berlin dispute to where it was six weeks ago.

The Security Council voted over Russian and Syrian objections today to consider ways of enforcing a truce in Palestine.

The vote was 8 to 0, with Russia, the Ukraine and Syria abstaining. Russia and Syria said the report of Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting mediator for Palestine, contained nothing new.

Bunche's report, made Sept. 30, was read to the Council. It recommended stronger measures to insure safety for truce observers and better compliance from Jews and Arabs in keeping the peace.

Bunche, an American negro, succeeded Count Folke Bernadotte after a group from the Jewish Stern group killed the Swedish mediator in Jerusalem Sept. 17.

Warren Austin of the United States, October president of the Council, invited representatives of Egypt, Israel and Lebanon to the Council table. The Lebanese and Israeli delegates sat side by side.

The six "neutrals" of the Council abandoned their efforts to mediate. Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, acting chairman of the Council for the Berlin discussions, called the Council meeting after receiving a Russian reply to the neutrals on what terms would be acceptable to Moscow.

Authoritative sources said the Russian answer rejected mediation, insisted the Berlin issue was outside the authority of the Security Council, and asked that negotiations revert to the Aug. 30 four-power Moscow agreement. Under (Turn to Page Seven)

Dewey Heads GOP Caravan For Kansas City as Truman Pushes Drive In Minnesota

By The Associated Press
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today the job ahead of American calls for teamwork between congress and the White House, and that calls for a new administration.

President Truman declared he had finally "smoked out" his opposition on campaign issues and that what the Republicans offered was a "me, too, program."

Both major candidates were campaigning in the mid-west. Governor Dewey got off his "teamwork" call at Joplin, Mo. Mr. Truman was at Mankato, Minn., when he accused the Republicans of "me, too" promises and warned the people against "recent converts" to principles he said the Democrats have backed all along.

By The Associated Press

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey headed his Republican caravan today for Kansas City, longtime Democratic stronghold where President Truman made his political bow 26 years ago.

Making his second campaign swing across Mr. Truman's home state of Missouri, the GOP presidential candidate switched from his sharp attacks on the president's handling of foreign affairs to a "good government" theme.

Mr. Truman meanwhile pushed his vote hunt through Minnesota and Wisconsin, where he is scheduled to make a major talk tonight in Milwaukee. The Democratic standard bearer stressed a plea at St. Paul for the "right kind of unity" to provide peace and prosperity for this country.

Dewey moves into Minnesota tomorrow after a major address to tonight in Kansas City. The New York governor hammered away at the unity and peace theme in yesterday's heavy round of speeches in Oklahoma.

"The time has come," he told an Oklahoma City rally, "for national leadership which will measure up to the devotion of peace."

Pleading to mobilize the strength of this immensely productive country to forestall any attack, Dewey said:

"The plain fact that strength—economic, military, moral strength—is a stark grim necessity if we are to live and go forward. Free nations must be strong or they will lose their freedoms. Peace-loving nations must be strong or they can be no peace."

Mr. Truman told his St. Paul audience that today's bi-partisan foreign policy for which "others are now claiming credit so loudly" was not Republican-backed in 1940 with "half the world in flames."

"We achieved this degree of unity," he said, "only after world shaking events had made it clear that the vast majority of the people of the United States would no longer tolerate isolationism."

In 1944, Mr. Truman said, Dewey "had so little foresight about postwar problems that he felt we could completely demobilize our military strength the minute hostilities ended."

"Now, as a matter of hindsight," the president continued, "I say 'in too' about building up our armed forces."

On the labor issue the president struck out at GOP Senator Joseph H. Ball of Minnesota for what he called Ball's "fanatic zeal" in helping pass the "shameful" Taft-Hartley act. The labor law is a major issue in Minnesota's senatorial race in which Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic mayor of Minneapolis, is opposing Ball.

Senator Taft, a co-author of the labor law, meanwhile told a St. Petersburg, Fla., rally that a Republican victory would insure freedom of enterprise, sound government and the principles of states' rights for southerners.

The chief States' Rights advocate, Gov. Strom Thurmond, told a Louisville rally last night that his wing of the Democratic party may garner enough electoral college votes to throw the presidential decision into the house of representatives.

TOBIN BLASTS ACT

Greensburg, Oct. 14.—(P)—U. S. Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin said last night "A CIO organizer recently told me it was practically impossible to organize a new union under the Taft-Hartley law." Addressing 1,000 at a dinner of the Westmoreland County Young Democratic Club, Tobin declared "five provisions of the Taft-Hartley law are definitely against labor." He asserted the act should be repealed.

First Hero of War in Pacific Lies Amid Scenes of Boyhood

Madison, Fla., Oct. 14.—(P)—Capt. Colin Kelly hailed seven years ago as the first hero of the war in the Pacific, lies buried in day amid the scenes of his boyhood at this small North Florida town.

Full military honors marked last rites yesterday for the young flier killed when his plane crashed soon after he had bombed the Japanese battleship Haruna. At Kelly's command, the crew members parachuted to safety.

Kelly's death won him personal praise from President Roosevelt, and he was posthumously awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Among the hundreds of mourners at the graveside service were Kelly's parents, his young widow who has since remarried, and his eight-year-old son, Colin III.

Amish Sacred Music To Echo Through Cells

Somerset, Oct. 14.—(P)—Amish sacred music and prayers will echo through the cells of the Somerset county jail tonight.

Amish church members will send a choir to the jail to cheer four Amish farmers who have been sentenced to 20 days in jail for refusing to send teen-age youngsters to high school.

Only last Friday the four men, Amos Yoder, Jonas Peterheim, Menno Brenneman and Enos Mast, were released from jail after serving 12 days on similar charges. When their children—all 15 and 16 years old—did not appear at the Elk Lick township school Monday or Tuesday, they were given a new hearing Tuesday night.

Man Held For Slaying Wife At Huntingdon

Harrisburg, Oct. 14.—(P)—An Altoona man wanted for questioning in the knife slaying of his estranged wife at Huntingdon, was picked up by police here today.

Chief of Police Oscar Blough reported.

Blough identified the man as Virgil Banks, 47, a negro, and said he was being held for Huntingdon county authorities.

At Huntingdon, Chief of Police William Smucker said Banks' wife, Charlotte, 44, identified her husband as her assailant before her death.

The woman was stabbed nine times at her home last night in what Smucker said was an argument about a reconciliation between the couple after a six-month estrangement.

"Smucker said neighbors, attracted by the woman's moans as she ran into the yard, heard her say: 'Virgil did it.'"

The police chief added that police were called to the home and, meanwhile, Banks disappeared temporarily only to show up within a half hour at the police station, apparently to surrender and unaware that his wife died.

Banks came to Huntingdon Tuesday to try for reconciliation and stayed overnight at the home where Mrs. Banks lived with her mother, Mrs. Anna Lewis, said.

He had been employed as a laborer in the construction of a U. S. Veterans hospital at Altoona.

Struggle Rages For Control Of Pa. Congressional Group

Harrisburg, Oct. 14.—(P)—A bitter struggle for control of Pennsylvania's 32-member congressional delegation is raging in the shadow of the 1948 presidential campaign.

Both Republican and Democratic organizations are making all-out drives to retain the seats they have and capture those held by the opposition.

Court Suit Result Of Charity Appeal

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 14.—(P)—Four adult friends of crippled, wavy-haired Charlene Fisk have named her defendant in a court suit.

They seek a ruling on disposal of more than $22,000 contributed to the little six-year-old girl who lost both arms at the shoulder in a farm accident two years ago.

Charlene fell on the blades of a horse-drawn hay mower on her father's farm near Rockford. She has since been fitted with artificial arms. She goes to school and is as active as many normal children.

Her father, Merle Fisk, paid all the bills himself for her medical and surgical care. The money contributed by sympathetic donors has been held in trust since the child's filing.

The "friendly will" were Nina Babcock, Joseph Weinberger, David J. Johnson and William Rogers, all of nearby Sparta. They ask the court to determine how the money shall be paid to Charlene.

ALTOONA FATALITY
Altoona, Oct. 14.—(P)—J. G. Hartman, 70, was killed by a car at last night, as he stepped off the curb at an intersection.

PROMISES OF HIGHER MEAT OUTPUT FADE

Reports Indicate Farmers Are Not Expanding Livestock Production As Anticipated

PREDICTIONS GLOOMY

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter
Washington, Oct. 14.—(P)—Government forecasts of a boost in meat supplies and lower prices by late 1949 may be over-optimistic.

Made chiefly by the agriculture department, these predictions have been based largely on the fact that, at the moment, the relationship between feed prices and livestock prices is very favorable for producing meat animals.

This year's record grain crop has pulled down costs of feed, while livestock prices have remained relatively high.

But reports from the corn belt, where the bulk of the nation's meat supply comes from, indicate that farmers are not jumping in to expand livestock production as much as the department had expected.

These reports say many farmers fear that prices may drop sharply by the time new meat animals can be produced, fattened and marketed.

This view was expressed by Carl C. Malone, Iowa State College economist, before an Agriculture Department farm outlook conference here this week. He was supported by several economists from other western corn belt states.

Malone, somewhat to the surprise of department officials, said he does not believe farmers will meet the government's goal of a "1,000,000 head 1949 spring crop. Such a goal must be met if there is to be a big jump in pork supplies next year. It compares with this year's spring crop of 31,000,000."

Malone said many farmers in Iowa—the major corn-hog state—prefer to put their corn under government price support loans and thereby escape any risk that might be involved in feeding the grain to livestock.

The department itself reported similar skepticism among corn belt cattle feeders in a report yesterday. It said the volume of beef cattle to be fed in the corn belt this winter may not be greatly different from a year ago because of a "cautious attitude among farmers and financing agencies."

The "uncertainty of future prices" of beef cattle was said to be the main factor of this cautiousness.

This farmer uneasiness also has been expressed in heavy October marketings of hogs. The recent drop in feed prices had been expected to lead farmers to hold hogs for fattening to heavy weights.

But the reverse has been the case. Hogs are coming to market at considerably lighter weights than a year ago and in larger numbers.

GOVERNOR TALKS TO STATE G. O. P. WOMEN

Williamsport, Oct. 14.—(P)—Republicans must guard against overconfidence in the current election campaign, says Gov. James H. Duff.

"The better team is often defeated by overconfidence," he said yesterday at a luncheon of the north central regional conference of Republican women.

But the governor added that Republicans should remain confident enough of the results they have set out to achieve.

Rep. Robert F. Rich (R.-Pa.) lauded 500 delegates attending the session for what they termed "the magnificent job they have done for the party." He predicted their efforts may result in the "greatest state delegation" in Congress in many years.

TRUCKS OVERWEIGHT

Greensburg, Oct. 14.—(P)—Drivers of 17 steel-laden trucks were arrested on Route 28 near New Kensington yesterday on charges of carrying excess loads. They were fined $50 each and forced to unload the excess cargo.

New York Firm Cuts Price of Men's Wear

New York, Oct. 14.—(P)—A 20 per cent cut in the price of men's wear was made today by Crawford Clothes "to help crush inflation." It was the first such post-war reduction by a major clothing manufacturing chain.

Joseph Levy, president, said woolen prices and labor costs are continuing to go up and no relief from advancing clothing prices is in sight. Crawford Clothes, he continued, decided to act now rather than wait for a change in the economic cycle.

School Pupils Will Have Holiday Friday

Pupils in the public schools of Warren Borough and county will enjoy another one-day vacation on Friday, while teachers are in Erie for the annual meeting of the Northwestern Pennsylvania State Education Association, which will convene in Strong Vincent High School.

Representing teachers of the borough will be Warren E. Miller, who is president of the district; Miss Cecelia Burch, president of the Warren Borough Teachers Association and delegate of the borough branch, with Robert Jewell as alternate.

Charles Anderson, Tidoute, and Orvan Eorton, Youngsville, are official delegates from the Warren County Branch, with Mrs. Helen Morrow and Mrs. Helena Jacman as alternates.

Convention Of Lutherans Is Concluded

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—(P)—The United Lutheran Church in America today closed its nine-day 16th biennial convention with selection of Des Moines, Ia., as the site of its 1950 meeting.

The church at its closing session urged each congregation of its more than 1,800,000 members "to become more aggressive in winning the unchurched to Jesus Christ."

In an address on ULCA's program of Cooperative Lutheran Evangelism, Dr. Franklin Clark Fry, president, said:

"The United Lutheran Church in America has an amazing range of activities, but evangelism is behind each one of them."

The 576 delegates accepted a proposal from the Rev. L. E. Steinhoff of Seattle, Wash., president of the Pacific synod, authorizing the executive board to appropriate $17,500 a year from now through 1951. Purpose of the fund will be to cover travel expenses if the church accepts the Pacific synod's invitation for the ULCA to hold its 1952 convention in Seattle.

The United Lutheran church in America has gone on record against applying for membership in the proposed National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America.

However the 576 delegates to the ULCA 16th biennial convention yesterday did not close the door on eventual membership in the proposed body.

First Report Meeting Shows Chest Campaign Is Slightly Under Fifty Pct. of Quota

Reporting slightly under 50% of the quota of $51,500.00 workers on the Warren Community Chest were told last night, at their first report meeting, that the campaign must be cleaned up Friday of this week when the final reports will be made at the Y. W. C. A. at 7:30 p. m.

Chester S. Allen, co-chairman of the Special Gifts and Industrial Division, stated that in his opinion, the campaign is certain of success. He went on to say that the first 11 sizable firms and industries reporting had all accepted the quota assigned them and that the general increase over the campaign a year ago was roughly 25%.

"If," said Mr. Allen, "the rest of the divisions report their full quotas on Friday night the 'A' division will account for the necessary balance. We are not going to fail."

He then reviewed, briefly, some of Warren's past Chest campaigns and paid special attention to the one of 1939, directed by Frank Kottkamp, which raised $51,700 of its $52,000 quota.

"At that time," Mr. Allen continued, "there were some 3,800 employed workers in Warren borough and North Warren compared to 5,250 today. At that time the average take home pay was $22 a week compared to $56 a week today. At that time there were but six agencies in the Chest and today, counting the USO, there are ten."

In conclusion Mr. Allen said: "Warren cannot let these ten agencies down in 1948 when they so loyally helped six agencies in the adverse year of 1939."

H. N. Elmquist, general chairman of the Community Chest, endorsed Mr. Allen's remarks and urged all workers complete their calls today and Friday that they might make complete reports at the second and final meeting tomorrow night when it is hoped the quota will be met. In concluding his remarks Mr. Elmquist said that if every worker completes all calls by Friday the Chest organization feels that the campaign will be concluded on a successful note.

Rev. W. M. Allison, assistant pastor of the 1st Lutheran church, gave the invocation.

All Chest workers are urged to make reports to their captains tomorrow night at 7:30 when the final report meeting is scheduled at the Y. W. C. A. A few teams, in

SCORES OF LIVES ENDANGERED WHEN GAS FLOW IN LINES OF UTILITY CO. IS INTERRUPTED

The Warren community hovered perilously close to the brink of a major disaster in the early hours this morning, but quick thinking on the part of a local baker and quick follow-up action by borough firemen and police, state police and a host of volunteers—plus a big smile from Lady Luck saved the day.

The stage for the potential disaster was set when an "air pocket" apparently developed shortly after 1 a. m. in the natural gas mains of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, which serves part of Warren borough.

This interrupted the gas flow into many furnaces, small heating stoves and hot water heaters, causing the flames to die out. Normal resumption of the gas flow when the air pocket dispersed sent scores of natural gas pouring into business houses, apartments and private homes.

Gas company officials said the gas failure affected about 20 houses. Hardest hit was the east side section near Crescent street.

Lowell McCann, a partner in the Mostert's baking establishment at 225 Pennsylvania avenue east, was working the night shift when he noticed the gas suddenly go out under his ovens, and then come back on full force about 10 minutes later.

Sensing the danger if the gas failure was widespread, McCann quickly called Fire Chief C. A. Albaugh and informed him what had occurred. The chief made a hurried investigation and found the apartments over the Lewis Market next door to the bakery were rapidly filling with gas. He roused the occupants, and then went to the home of his brother, where he found the house filled with gas and the family members very nearly overcome.

The borough and state police organizations and the fire department were immediately alerted, with "off crews" of both the firemen and the police reporting for duty.

Then came the task of arousing the whole town, with Chief Albaugh directing the firemen's part in the procedure, and Police Chief George Hahn and his two lieutenants, Gerry Bean and Mike Evan, heading up the efforts of the police and other units.

The fire department's emergency and high pressure units were sent to the streets with their sirens wide open, with the rest of the fire equipment being held in reserve for a possible fire call.

Joining in the siren serenade were the borough and state police prowl cars and ambulances from local funeral homes. The police in the borough scout car reported they drove without lights so that the full power from the battery could be diverted into the wailing siren.

The powerful sound car of the Lewis Catering Service also was pressed into service to warn the residents of the danger. Bob Lewis, who was the driver for this car, with Council President W. E. Rice serving as "acting burgess" in the absence of W. F. Crossett, and Dick "back operating" the public address system.

Radio Station WNAE went on the air at 4:10 a. m. to advise residents what the sirens were all about. S. G. Davis, chairman of the Warren chapter of the American Red Cross "stood by" at police headquarters, ready to saving his disaster relief organization into action in event of an explosion. Wayne Painter, chairman of the communicable police committee and several other groups also reported for duty.

The sirens and the P. A. system did the trick, however, and within a short time the entire town was aroused. Home owners quickly checked the gas appliances in their homes, and then went to the dwellings of neighbors and relatives to check on the situation there.

Bell Telephone Company played a major role in averting the disaster. Mrs. Martha H. Gallenberg, head of the night force, called Chief Operator Mary C. McCarthy and 12 operators for emergency duty to handle the heavy telephone load.

Bell officials said the normal load between midnight and 6 a. m. is about 100 calls, but this morning more than 3,500 calls were clocked as residents used the telephone facilities to arouse the friends and neighbors. The loss reached such a peak at one time company officials said, that Chief R. E. Endress and Chief Mack of the Central Office staff pitched in to help handle the traffic.

Officials of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company said in statement today that the source of the "slip" of air in the pipe had not been determined, but that through investigation is being made.

Fire Chief Albaugh was loud in his praise today of Lowell McCann for his quick thinking in spreading the alarm.

"Had it not been for his call Albaugh said, 'the entire Crescent section might have been wiped out.'"

A great big hand also goes to the fire chief and the entire fire department, and to Police Chief George Hahn and his force, in the efficient manner in which emergency was handled.

EISENHOWER PAINTING SOLD AT A BENEFIT

New York, Oct. 14.—(P)—A painting by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was sold for $2,600 at a benefit auction last night.

The picture, which Eisenhower did for the Urban League, a group to aid negroes, brought by far the highest price as paintings by celebrities went under the hammer.

Eisenhower's painting is of Indian, and on the reverse is a landscape. The general's attempt at painting for fun was a successful bidder was William S. Wassell, who is in the big business in Philadelphia.

Refining Of Oil Is Setting A New Record

State College—With nearly 6,000,000 barrels of crude oil being refined each day in the United States, a new record that exceeds even peak wartime production records has been reached.

Dr. M. R. Fenske, director of the Petroleum Refining Laboratory at the Pennsylvania State College, points out that 8 per cent, or 460,000 barrels of this tremendous output, is handled by 23 refineries in Pennsylvania.

Pennsylvania ranks third among the states in petroleum capacity, Dr. Fenske says, being topped by only Texas and California.

Dr. Fenske also points out that Pennsylvania grade crude, although only about 1 per cent of that produced in this country, has been considered a superior crude to refine, and therefore is the highest-priced crude.

Quality of Pennsylvania lubricating oils is recognized all over the world and during the war, about 40 per cent of the aircraft engine lubricants were made from Pennsylvania oils, according to Dr. Fenske.

To aid the refining industry in Pennsylvania, the Petroleum Refining Laboratory was established at Penn State in 1929. In addition to helping the refining industry of the State and the country, it has been engaged in research and development work on petroleum products for the armed forces.

DOUBLE FEATURE PROGRAM AT THE LIBRARY THEATRE FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

"Texas, Brooklyn and Heaven" will appeal to residents near and far from all three localities. Based on Barry Benfield's best-seller of a few years back, it tells the story of two Texas youngsters to whom New York and its environs are Mecca for diverse reasons, the scrapes they get into with greater rapidity than even Leo Dutocher envisioned and the ideal solution which they ultimately evolve.

Diana Lynn, one of the few child stars to grow up to be an even more charming adult star, plays the part of Perry Dunklin while Guy Madison is Eddie Taylor, the Texas newspaperman who quits his job to come to New York to write a play and who is forced, through a series of indescribable incidents, to take Perry under his wing.

"Larceny"

Universal-International's "Larceny," co-starring John Payne, Joan Caulfield, Dan Duryea and Shelley Winters Friday and Saturday at the Columbia Theatre.

The film notes itself a swiftly-spaced melodrama that excites spontaneous approval from the audience.

The suspense story concerns an eastern gang that goes to a wealthy town just outside Los Angeles to set up a fictitious war memorial expected to net the "crooks" $100,000.

Dan Duryea portrays the gang leader, while Shelley Winters appears as his girl friend, John Payne, as a decoy, goes to the town and becomes acquainted with the city manager's daughter, portrayed by Joan Caulfield. He then proceeds to set the scene for the swindle.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC ANNIVERSARY

The 30th anniversary of the world-wide influenza epidemic of 1918, in which 20,000,000 persons in the United States were attacked and 550,000 died of the disease or its complications, finds medical science in a much better position than ever before to control mortality, should an epidemic occur. This is on the authority of statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

Although pointing out that the 1918 pandemic followed by about 30 years the preceding major epidemic of the disease, the statisticians see no signs of a serious outbreak this year. By contrast, months before the 1918 pandemic there were serious influenza outbreaks both in this country and in Europe.

"But even if an influenza epidemic should come," the statisticians say, "the sulfa drugs and penicillin would be of immense help in keeping the fatality rate down. Influenza, when uncomplicated, causes relatively few deaths, even during pandemics. Deaths occur very largely among cases complicated with a severe form of pneumonia. The sulfa and penicillin will be used to reduce the hazard from these complications."

"The efficacy of the newer methods of treatment is clearly evident from the fact that the improvement in the mortality from influenza and pneumonia among the industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has been relatively three times as great in the last decade as in the preceding one," the statisticians report. "Among white male policyholders the death rate from these diseases dropped 73 percent between 1935-1937 and 1947, as against 23 percent between 1925-1927 and 1935-1937. Among white females the corresponding reductions were 77 percent and 29 percent."

STEP TOWARD SOLUTION

Recommendation that all persons who nurse for hire in this state be licensed has been presented to the Pennsylvania State Nurses Association by key civic, labor, medical and nursing authorities throughout Pennsylvania.

Representatives, who had been called together by the nurses' association for a state-wide expression of opinion and advice on Pennsylvania's nursing needs, also urged greater recruitment, adequate training and licensure of practical nurses to assist the professional nurse to meet the increasing demands for all types of nursing service.

Dr. Joseph W. Post, representing the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, pointed out that his organization had passed a resolution at the recent Philadelphia Centennial endorsing the principle of licensing properly trained practical nurses. It was generally agreed that mandatory licensure of all persons who nurse for hire would be the only way to assure the public of qualified nursing service.

Mrs. Anna Davis, a practical nurse, was of the opinion that a license would be a symbol of good training, and that the status it gives practical nurses will encourage women to enter this field.

Speaking for the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. David Hoff, chairman of the Division of Nursing and Public Health, stated that her organization is in favor of a better trained practical nurse, and stressed the danger of incompetent nursing service.

Harry Block, secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council, reminded the committee that Federal funds are available for the training of practical nurses in vocational schools.

Representatives agreed that 18 years should be the minimum age for practical nurse training, that a year of high school or its equivalent be required, and that a waiver be considered for those now working as practical nurses.

EVERYTHING'S ABOUT THE SAME

A friend whose earliest political memories go back to 1906 was recalling a deal he made with his father in that election year. The Republican McKinley campaign was on a slogan of "the full dinner pail" and the warning that if the Democrats won there would be "hard times." So our friend was to get a pony if McKinley won. But if William Jennings Bryan was elected, he would resign himself to austerity living and settle for a goat.

"The result," he remembers, "was that I didn't get either one."

In 1948 "the full dinner pail" is called prosperity, and "hard times" have become boom-and-bust depression. And this year it's the Democrats who are promising the one and warning of the other. But we suspect that, as in 1906, things may not be so drastically different after the election. And, with prices what they are, any boy today who has a pony-or-goat deal may find himself both pony-less and goatless.

Interesting Items Taken From The Warren Evening Times

1923
An anonymous gift of $10,000 to the Tidoute Presbyterian church was announced by the pastor, Rev. Thomas Lambert. Peter McCabe purchased the residence property of E. L. Gossman at 337 Hickory street. A delegation of sportsmen from Warren county went to Kane to make arrangements to have practice runs on the land between Penn Run and McGee Run closed for the coming season. "This is another indication of the resentment of sportsmen over the new ruling affecting the shooting of deer. It is believed that the posting of this particular territory will save several hundred of these animals at least." Three acts of vaudeville billed for the library theatre featured "Gals of the Golden West," Fred and Daisy Rial in a "Comedy of Rings" and The Happy Lawsons, radio entertainers from WSAL.

E. E. Lindmark, chief registrar for the Warren County Registration Commission, reported there were 2,609 new registrations of voters in the county from May 23 to October 8. Three men arrested in overalls held up the Clintonville National Bank in Venango county and escaped with $3,000. The pages of history flipped back 15 years when workmen at Russell field unearthed a small bottle, placed there on Arbor Day, 1923, when trees were planted in memory of prominent figures of history. Inside the bottle was a note which read "We Dedicate This Tree to Patrick Henry." Youngsville Eagles won their first victory of the grid campaign by beating the Jamestown high school reserves, 18-6, under the lights at Jamestown. The Youngsville starters were Woods, Hooven, Gurdak, Knapp, York, Main, Sheffer, H. Thompson, Hannold, Caldwell and Corder.

How to Celebrate Your Wedding Anniversary

The "Dutch" Millers celebrated their Tin Wedding Anniversary Saturday. Everything had to be tin. Folks even ate off tin plates, and drank coffee out of tin cups.

When it was time to drink a toast to the "bride and groom," out came the final touch: ice cold beer in cans. And come the Millers' 15th anniversary (Glass) I expect we'll be toasting them with sparkling beer in bottles!

And I couldn't help thinking that there was a lesson for married folks in the way Dutch and his missus have got along together—in their policy of live-and-let-live, with never a criticism of each other's differences in taste.

From where I sit, it's due to two things: Temperance—as that moderate preference for beer suggests, and Tolerance—for their own differences of opinion—and for the tastes of others, whether applied to beer, to politics, or how to celebrate an anniversary.

Area Student's Awarded A Scholarship

Gordon Merle Klenck, son of Mrs. Luella Klenck, Warren Star Route, has been awarded a scholarship through the Northern Baptist Student Aid Fund, according to word just received here from New York headquarters of the Northern Baptist Convention.

The Student Aid Committee explains that a total of 50 awards were issued in varying amounts from $200 for one year to $2,000 for four years. Gordon was named a "Northern Baptist Scholar of 1948" and received a cooperative one-year scholarship valued at $300.

In spite of his wide range of church, school and community interests, he maintained high scholastic standing throughout his high school course. He is continuing his education at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, where he plans to study for the ministry.

He is a member of First Baptist church, has served as president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, also as a church usher, and has been active in many other phases of church life.

He also distinguished himself for leadership while in high school, having served on Student Council, and as treasurer of his junior and senior classes. He also played in the school orchestra. In addition, his record shows a variety of community interests, including activities of the YMCA.

YOUNGSVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, Oct. 14—Mrs. Frank Weaver was pleasantly surprised Friday when a group of Jamestown friends came to help her celebrate her birthday. They came with well filled baskets, including a birthday cake made by a cousin, Mrs. Esther Young. A pleasant afternoon was spent in visiting. Those making the trip were Mrs. Esther Young and granddaughter, Elaine Westran, Mrs. Lucille Spetz, Mrs. Rowena Bloomquist, Mrs. Anna Melquist and Mrs. Manda Morris.

NEW SWINDLE
A Dayton, O., man was gypped out of $3 and his bus ticket home at Erie Saturday night by a swindler who pretended to find a wallet lying along the street and then turned what appeared to be the contents over to Ivan Bears after first getting the sum of money and the ticket from him as security.

Leaving on the pretense of finding the owner, the swindler never returned and Erie police were notified. The same type of trick has been performed several times in that city recently, defrauding persons of money.

TODAY is pay day for all the folks who have cleaned up.

...the sweetest gift you can give on Sweetest Day!

—October 16th

Dear Sue:
It's so very difficult to put affection into words!—I rather than try. I'd like (on this special day) to let this sweetest of gifts express my feelings for the sweetest of persons! Love John

Timely Sketch of Methodist Church In Kinzua Observing 100th Anniversary Sunday

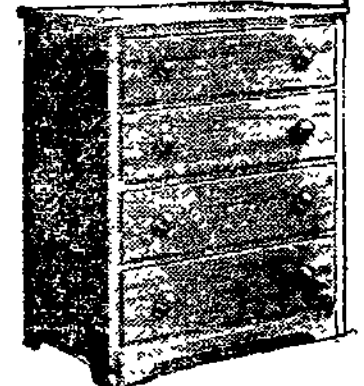

(Editor's Note: This sketch of the history of the Methodist Church in Kinzua was prepared for use in connection with the church's centennial observance Sunday, Oct. 17. The author is Mrs. Clyde English of Kinzua, whose husband is a great grandson of John English, Sr., donor of the land for the church.)

By Mrs. Clyde English
Previous to 1830 this district was part of a Circuit at which time a class was formed, holding meetings in homes, barns or any handy building. Among the first members of the class were John, Jacob and Comfort Hamlin; Samuel, Levi, Elijah and James Morrison; John Campbell, and John English, with their wives.
In 1848 John English gave the land and the present church was built. As far as we can ascertain it is much the same today, except the original building had a balcony.
Two years later the first resident physician, Dr. Nichols, took up his practice in Kinzua. Before that time a doctor had to be called from Warren, whither they went on floats! Thirty-five years later the railroad was laid through the town.
The church stood staunchly, and patiently, while the able men and boys marched away to fight in the Civil War. As is always the way in time of war, many of them never returned, but those who finally came home found a great many of the children had been swept away by diphtheria.
Since that time the Spanish-American war, Mexican Border trouble, and two World Wars have called our young men from home and church. The Service Flag of the last one hangs on the wall of the church.
Great revivals have been witnessed here; weddings... christenings, memorials for our soldiers... last rites for loved ones...
Among our present members the oldest (in years) is eighty-five, the oldest (in membership years) was taken into the church by Rev. J. M. Carpenter in 1883. Sixty-five years of faithfulness! Another member recalls attending Sunday school nearly seventy years ago, her class being in the balcony.
Our church has been threatened by fire many times when great sections of the town have been swept away; once very near when the Baptist church burned on the spot where the Community house now stands.
It has also been surrounded by water when the creek and river are at flood-tide. (In 1917, Rev. Earl English and his bride were completely isolated for a week, in the parsonage, because of high water.)
Rev. Lyman Taylor, a grandson of Rev. David Taylor who served this church in 1903, is a member of the Youth Fellowship party in Korea. Ruth Anne Hurst, daughter of Rev. R. J. Hurst our pastor in 1929-30, is preparing for work in Japan.

Our recent pastor, Rev. DeForest Tennes, was converted during Rev. Collier's pastorate in East Randolph. Rev. Collier served this church during 1910-11-12.
Since Rev. Ira Blackford, the last of the Circuit Riders, our pastor in 1848, we had some sixty preachers.
May we start the second century as faithfully, and as staunchly as our ancestors did the first. The church stands ready, and "fit", to do its part.
Pastors serving the Kinzua church were:
1848—Ira Blackford.

Station Opens For Service On Route Six

The new section of Route 6 which cuts along the base of the hill from a point just east of Glade Bridge to Dutchman's Run has its first gasoline service station.

The station, known as the Penn View, has been opened by L. E. Lindahl, who formerly managed a gas station in Clarendon.

The new station is constructed of white-coated cinder blocks. Ample parking is provided and nearby are several attractive eating offering modern accommodations for tourists. A large display of pottery and china also is exhibited.

Lindahl said his new station will enable him to offer better service for both the tourist and his former Clarendon customers.

Huge Vessel Transported Over N. Y. C.

Another of the pieces of high-pressure refining equipment manufactured by Struthers-Wells Titusville was in the Warren yards of the New York Central today en route to Houston, Texas. The huge tank is one of several being constructed by the local firm.

The pressure vessel measures 67 feet nine inches in length, 17 feet 2 1/2 inches wide, and 12 feet five inches high. It requires three flat cars to transport it. While it is blocked and strapped to the middle car, its extreme length projects each end of the vessel about eight feet over the bed of the lead and hind cars.

The Warren yard crew moved the shipment to Falconer today from where it will be taken to Dunkirk and then over the New York Central lines to Cleveland. From Cleveland the tank will go via the Big Four to St. Louis, Mo., where it will be transferred to the Missouri Pacific to finish the journey.

Because of the special handling required, the Times-Mirror was informed that the freight bill for the job will total nearly $3000. It will take at least two weeks for the tank to reach its destination.

OHIO GRANGE PUTS CANDIDATES ON SPO

Columbus, O., Oct. 14—(P)—The master of Ohio's Grange today asked President Truman and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to give an exact parity figure in support of farm prices.

Joseph W. Fichter, head of the farm group, in telegrams to the two presidential candidates, asked them to be more specific in their advocacy of the price support principle.

The Grange master said 60 percent of parity voted by the 80th Congress was inadequate.

Parity is the average price level over a ten-year period covering basic commodities. It is considered a fair yardstick with which to compare current prices.

Fichter, in explaining farm complaints on the 60 percent legislation, said it failed to take production costs including farm labor and machinery depreciation into account.

Washington, Oct. 14—(P)—T. A. F. International Typographical Union today claimed a partial victory in the federal court decision holding the union in contempt; continued Taft-Hartley law violations. The union said it will appeal.

Henry Kaiser, an ITU attorney said the court declined to grant a government request that ITU be ordered to cease making strike benefit payments and give other support in the 11-month walkout of printers against Chicago daily newspapers.

According to Kaiser the court ruled there was no clear or convincing evidence that the ITU contract violated the terms of a prior court injunction against Taft-Hartley violations.

Trio Is Held For Stabbing Autoist

Waterloo, Md., Oct. 14—(P)—Two men and a woman were held today for slaying a man in connection with the kidnapping and stabbing of a Buffalo, N. Y., man.

State police identified the three persons, all negroes, as Otis Cam, 23; his wife, Margaret, 20; and Arthur Johnson, all of Buffalo. They were taken into custody yesterday when found repairing the tire of an automobile described by a police teletype as like that which James younger, 21, negro, was driving when he was kidnapped Monday night.

At an Erie hospital, Younger said two men jumped into his car at Buffalo, tied him up to the truck, drove to near Edinboro, Pa., where he was tied with wire, covered with a blanket and stabbed twice. He managed to free his feet and stumble to a farmhouse where the men drove away in his car. He suffered a punctured lung.

Democrats Pile Up Big Lead In Alaska

Juneau, Alaska, Oct. 14—(P)—Democrats continued to pile up wide leads for major territorial offices today in the Alaska election. Congressional Delegate E. L. Bartlett, a Democrat who sits in Congress without a vote, held a lead of 11,803 to 3,511 over the Republican opponent, R. H. Stock of Anchorage, with 73 of the territory's 225 precincts reported.

Gerald Williams, Democratic candidate for attorney general, was leading Republican Almer J. Peterson 9,005 to 5,633. Frank A. Boyle, incumbent Democratic auditor, led Republican Albert E. Goetz 9,338 to 4,973 in his bid for reelection.

The territory was strongly in record in favor of abolishing naval traps.

Basel Rathbone, Beatrice Straight and Walter Hampden talk things over as they prepare for the coast-to-coast Episcopal radio broadcast of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street", to be heard through WNAE-FM from 8:00 p. m. Friday. Mr. Rathbone plays Browning. Miss Straight is Elizabeth and Mr. Hampden is host for the program. ### Corry Party For Youngsville Folks Youngsville, Oct. 14—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, well known local residents, were honored Sunday when a most enjoyable family gathering was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Seastadt, in Corry, the occasion marking their 48th wedding anniversary.

At five o'clock, luncheon was served at a table beautifully appointed and centered with autumn flowers and white tapers. On the table, also, was a large cake surrounded by birthday candies, these latter indicating birthday anniversaries of the bride of 48 years ago and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Frank Weaver. Although the observance was held on Sunday, October 9 was the actual date of both the wedding and birthday anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were presented with many attractive remembrances of the anniversary occasion.

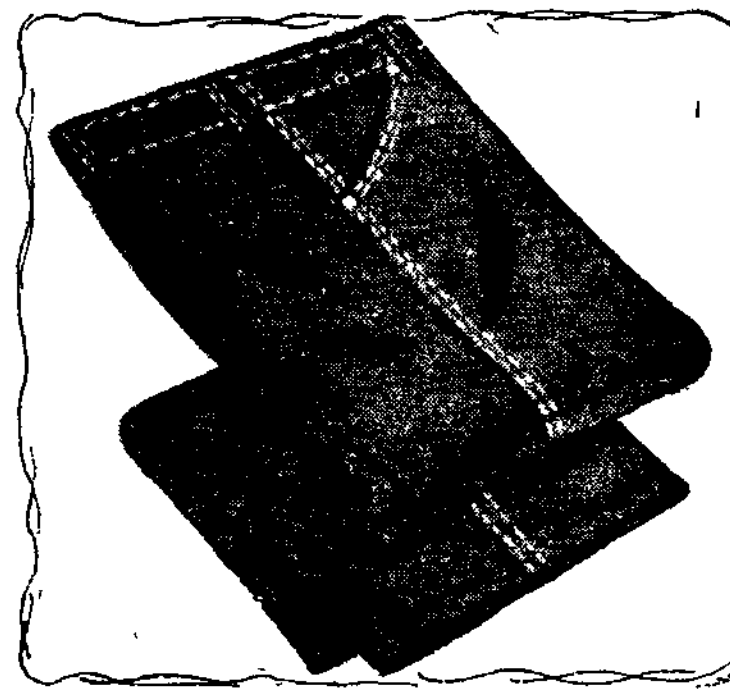

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Eelzy Jones and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Williams and son, of Corry; Mrs. Dora Pearson and daughter, Mrs. Mable Selline, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weaver and son, of Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindstrom, Sherman, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weaver, and the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anderson, of Youngsville.

DESSERT-LUNCHEON IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The October dessert-luncheon at the YWCA Wednesday noon proved to be a very delicious occasion. Mrs. Ernest Hagenlocker provided a beautifully decorated table in keeping with the approaching Halloween season. Others serving on the October committee were Mrs. W. H. Wood and Mrs. W. F. Bennett.

The program in the social room was presented by Dr. LeRoy Campbell, who told of his experiences in Europe this summer as the leader of a tour under the auspices of the Bureau of University Travel. Conditions in England, France, Belgium, Switzerland and Italy were vividly portrayed, as well as the contracts with well known personalities he and his group were privileged to meet. Dr. Campbell closed his talk by impressing on the minds of those present one of Confucius' teachings which has meaning for each of us in all we do day by day.

YOUNG LADIES DAY OUT

The YWCA announces today a substitute program for its proposed Ladies' Day Out. Sufficient registrations were not received to make this program possible at this time, but it is hoped that at a later date more interest will be evidenced. For the present, sewing classes and swimming classes are offered. Miss Mollie Pickering, home economics representative, will be the teacher of a class to be offered on Thursday nights for four weeks, starting October 28th at 7:30. She will teach a class on how to make children's clothes or on how to make slip covers. There have been requests for both of these classes and the one with the greatest number of reservations will take precedence. Reservations are to be made at the YWCA office, phone 450, by Thursday, October 21st.

The same date is the deadline for the swimming classes, also. Mrs. Cecelia Allison, new program director of the YW, will be in charge of swimming class at YMCA on Thursdays from two until three o'clock. To make this program possible it is necessary that sufficient reservations be made, also at the YW office.

The association is endeavoring to offer to the women and girls of Warren the kinds of classes and activities wanted by the community, and all are urged to be sure to make their interests known.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A brainstorm hit Ludlow! An Alma Mater which had lasted in Ludlow to good advantage for thirty-four years, was in two meetings degraded so far as to be no longer of any use. Therefore by a small minority of Ludlowites it was decided to take the pupils from eighth through twelfth grades to a bigger and supposedly better school. That school was Kane.

There was no deep thought on the issue nor any hard planning put into this big idea of shifting pupils to another school. Of course it was known that the road was to be fixed between the two towns but that seemed to serve as no Stop Sign. Consequently, September found these one hundred Ludlowites going through the halls of K. H. S. In the middle of that same month they took these same students in two buses over the first detour containing two very dangerous railroad crossings. Statistics showed that ten people had been killed on that same R. R. crossing before this time, but we still allow our dear ones to go over this same road each morning and evening, facing these obvious dangers.

However, if this detour could not be used later on or if for some reason it was not to be used, then the other one, our alternative is Bliss Hill, or around Sheffield, Barnes, Brockton and DeYoung.

Anyone who has taken the trip over Bliss Hill knows the danger one is confronted with. Yes it is true, repairs are being made, but regardless of these repairs that hill is still 1 1/4 miles long and a four or five hundred foot drop on one side, at the top of the hill. During our winters even Route 6 is icy, and one must take every precaution but still skidding and sliding are frequent. But still this detour is considered for buses carrying forty girls and boys, if necessary. Are we going to wait for an accident, for someone to be hurt or killed, before we complain, or should be open up a fight now? Regardless of how good the driver or his amount of experience, accidents can very likely happen and are not infrequent on such dangers.

Of course we people can send students the long way around as I have previously mentioned. This would make a nine mile trip approximately 25 miles longer. Is it right or fair to the students to make them go this distance when they could go to their own school which still stands in Ludlow?

Should we stand by and watch a few people send our high school students, (they are ours, you know) around like a bunch of cattle, and let them do as they please or can we stand up now before it's too late and fight!

Ludlow Subscriber.

POLITICAL FORUM

(Furnished By Republican County Committee)

Harrisburg—The total registration figures for Pennsylvania, gathered by the Associated Press and published today are clear and altogether convincing evidence of the fact that Pennsylvanians will go Republican in November, Senator M. Harvey Taylor, Republican State Chairman said today.

"These figures, showed a net gain of nearly a quarter million in the Republican registration over the last Presidential election in 1944 and a net loss of more than 30,000 to the Democrats, present overwhelming evidence of the tremendous Republican trend and demonstrate that the citizens are not going to suffer any more losses at the hands of the confused and bewildered New Dealers now in power.

"Republican total registration for the 1948 election is 2,880,320 compared with 2,645,263 in 1914. The Democrat registration totals 1,823,513 for 1948 compared with 1,854,111 in 1914. Democrats are leaving their party.

"This also means that the new voters, with a keen sense of what has happened to our country in the past sixteen years, are turning to the leadership of the Republican party, under Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren, the candidates for President and Vice-President, to restore our country and stabilize world affairs.

Analysis shows that there is no difference in the nutrient content of light-shelled or dark-shelled eggs.

"Dramatic Miniatures"

Appearing here on Wednesday, October 20, at eight o'clock in the Woman's Club auditorium will be Ruth Enders, actress, who has had a varied and colorful career as teacher, newspaperwoman and army wife—to say nothing of her work on the stage. At the age of 18, she began instructing neighborhood children in dramatics, pantomime, and speech, and also began to entertain at civic affairs throughout her home state of New Jersey. Miss Enders spent the summers of her high school years in stock companies and summer theatres and, at 17, she was graduated from the Rollins Studio. She was offered a scholarship of the theatre in London but decided to go in to the professional theatre. She was given a small part in the Hart Kauffman production "The American Way". From there on, it was a series of radio performances, program appearances and summer theatres.

She has appeared in "Stage Door", "The Man Who Came to Dinner", "Liliom", "Arms and the Man", "Green Grows the Lilacs", and many other successful stage hits. Miss Enders is the wife of Paul Tripp, well known actor, director and author of the best-selling children's record albums, "Tubby the Tubs", "PeeWee the Piccolo" and "Jack and Homer".

When she appears on the stage at the Woman's Club, her repertoire will include scenes from "One Sunday Afternoon", "Saint Joan", "Idiot's Delight", and three scenes from "Fygmation". Warren's theatre-minded public has an evening of fine entertainment in store when it attends this program of dramatic sketches. Tickets are on sale by members of the club, at various business establishments about town, at the clubhouse and at the door on the evening of the performance.

Nicely of Erie, state president of the Parent-Teachers Association, was a speaker and Friday Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan of Pittsburgh was scheduled to talk. The meeting closes Friday night in the Masonic Temple.

A television receiving tube made largely of metal is said to be the first successful tube of the type which can be manufactured on a continuous production basis. It is a 16-inch tube for direct-view home receiving sets.

All Time High Is Reached In Meter Income

State College—Revenue from parking meters in Pennsylvania reached an all-time high in 1947 when $2,739,582 was collected in 196 metered communities, it was reported today by the Institute of Local Government at the Pennsylvania State College.

Receipts for 1947 were 48 per cent higher than those for 1946 and more than double the 1945 figure, according to Charles F. Fee Decker, assistant executive secretary of the Institute.

Lee Decker also reported that Pennsylvania, with more than 60,000 parking meters, leads the nation in the number of meters. He said that Pennsylvania has more than twice as many metered municipalities as any other state. California comes next.

Meters were reported most popular in cities ranging from 50,000 to 100,000 in population, with all but one of the Pennsylvania cities in that category having meters. Ten of 12 communities between 25,000 and 50,000 also are metered.

Metered municipalities range from Pittsburgh with 1427 meters to Point Marion with only 49 meters. Receipts per meter vary from $126.65 in York to $5.72 in Carbondale.

Six new cases were taken under care by the Warren Visiting Nursing Association in the month of September, according to the report presented at the monthly board meeting by the nurse, Helen Downey.

These cases brought to 25 the total assisted during the month. Chronic medical cases, with 15, with six acute medical cases, one surgical patient and two new-born babies.

Besides 42 office and telephone calls, the nurse made 119 visits during the month. Of these, 112 were for nursing, one was a night summons and six were made to the new-born.

Region Has Good Reason For Observing Oil Progress Day

The region which gave birth to oil industry 89 years ago has a good reason to join today in the celebration of Oil Progress Day, according to a statement by D. T. Ring of Columbus, Ohio, president of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association.

The first well drilled for oil was completed by Col. Edwin L. Drake at Titusville on August 27, 1859. Since then, Mr. Ring pointed out, oil fields of Pennsylvania and the southwestern New York, West Virginia, and southeastern Ohio, which together constitute the Pennsylvania grade crude oil region, not only have maintained continuous oil production but have been sending oil men to the far corners of the world to teach the "how-to" of producing, refining and marketing petroleum.

Mr. Ring called attention to a new output of Pennsylvania grade crude oil this year over last. Figures issued by the U. S. Bureau of Mines indicate an increase of 4,000 barrels in the first seven months of 1948 over the similar period of a year ago, bringing the total to 12,916,000 barrels for the year-to-date period, latest for which official figures are available. Pennsylvania itself ranks seventh among the oil-producing states of this country in all-time production of crude oil, according to world oil figures. The state's output from 1859 through 1947 totaled 1,089,136,000 barrels. Texas ranks first with 11,242,720,000, followed by California.

Oklahoma, Louisiana, Kansas and Illinois.

In reviewing the oil industry's progress, Pennsylvania can lay claim not only to establishing the oil business at the site of Colonel Drake's well but also to giving the industry its "second wind," Mr. Ring said. He explained that by "second wind" he meant the development of the system called secondary recovery of oil. Pennsylvania oil men discovered by accident in the 1920's that water from improperly plugged wells was trickling into oil-bearing formations, causing oil production to soar at wells that had, so it was thought, just about pumped themselves dry. The water was pushing oil ahead of it to the producing wells. The discovery led to development of secondary recovery methods by means of water-flooding and by repressuring the oil reservoir through use of air and gas.

The resultant "second crop" of oil has exceeded the first harvest in some fields, the association head said. He cited as an example the Bradford, Pa., field where production in the first 46-year stage of development, from 1875 to 1921, totaled 250 million barrels. In the 27 years since water-flooding was legalized in 1921, the field has produced more than another 250 million barrels.

SEEK FAIR REPORTS

Although the number of county and community fairs conducted prior to October 1 totaled approximately 90, only two associations by that time had filed official reports with the State Department of Agriculture as qualification for state aid in the payment of premiums on agricultural exhibits. A reminder that the deadline for such reports is December 15 was sent this week to all fair associations in the State by Frank S. Keet, Department Comptroller. It is his task to audit all reports and provide for payment of premium money. Last December his office was flooded with 62 reports between the first and 16th of the month, resulting in unavoidable delay in sending checks to the associations. Several fairs failed to get reports mailed on time and could not be included in state-aid payments. This year reports are expected from 103 fair associations compared with 98 received in 1947.

Scouts Are Enlisted To Help Lick Forest Fire Threats

This is the forest fire season! The Boy Scouts of the Warren County Council, are being enlisted along with the others of the nation's 2,141,984 Scouts and Leaders to do what they can to lick the dreaded national problem. Each year an average of 210,000 fires burn over thirty million acres of forest land, causing fifty millions of dollars damage to commercial timber—enough to build 16,000 five-room homes with enough pole size timber left over to furnish newsprint for every newspaper in the nation for a year.

The Boy Scouts of America has a vital stake in the forest fire problem. It is interested in the protection of American forests from fire. Scouts believe that an educated and trained citizenry conserves its national resources and protects its people. C. W. Barwis, chairman of the Camping Committee of the Warren County Council with headquarters in Warren said, "Our organization believes that destruction caused by carelessness indicates weaknesses not conducive to strong character and that the causes of such destruction can be removed through better understanding, training and the assumption of personal responsibility."

Mr. Barwis said that the camp property owned or leased by the Boy Scouts of America, nationally, comes to more than 250,000 acres with a value of over ten million dollars. Much of the camp areas is heavily timbered, an invaluable asset for boys who enjoy living in the woods and studying nature.

The Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America have two camp sites with a total of over 280 acres of land. Camp Olmsted along the Allegheny River just south of the Complanter Indian Reservation contains 288 acres. The most of this land is woodland of second growth hickory, white pine, spruce and other hard woods 2000 seedling pines were planted on the property several years ago and are doing very well.

Camp Jefferson on Jackson Run one-half mile west of North Warren is used by Scout Troops and other organizations throughout the year and has 14 acres of land, mostly wooded.

Studies have shown that ninety percent of all forest fires are caused by carelessness of overage persons, through carelessly tossed matches, cigars or cigarettes or unattended campfires or improper brush and field burning.

Weekend hikes, camping trips and the hunting season will soon be underway. Dry leaves, grass, ferns become tinder ready to be exploded by a half extinguished fire, a snapping softwood spark or a flash of lightning. Lightning, by the way, is blamed with only seven percent of forest fires. The remainder are man-caused.

Scouts throughout the nation are now being urged to "sell" fire protection knowledge to their parents and friends who hunt or drive through dry country. Scouts are cautioned to clear ground all around and deep down to mineral earth before lighting their camp or cooking fires. Many forest fires stay in decayed vegetation on the forest floor and travel great distances under ground.

Lake all good campers, Scouts are trained to put out "every spark" of their own fires. They are constantly reminded to report quickly to the nearest authorities any fires they discover.

All fires are small when they start, but even a small fire may spread into a conflagration. Fires starting in remote areas often reach vast proportions before fire fighters can get to the scene. Scouts are encouraged to drown their campfires, then stir the remains and douse it again. Smokers are urged to hold their matches until cold, then pinch them to make sure, and finally to crush cigarette, cigar and pipe ashes, or better still to use ashtrays.

Persons who must use fire to clear old fields, to burn brush or trash must learn about local laws. In many states any person who starts a fire is required to call for such burning only on calm days with help and tools on hand from start to finish and finally to kill every spark when the guarded fire has done its intended job.

The importance of the nation's timberlands is often not recognized. The United States uses tremendous quantities of wood in peace and in war, and it takes 50 to 100 years or more before seedlings grow to timber suitable for commercial use.

Private timberlands, totalling 340,000,000 acres are generally the most accessible, easily logged and most productive. They supply ninety percent of all our timber and other forest products.

Forest fires can have a tragic aftermath, months after a fire, Mr. Barwis said. He related the experience of the town of Montrose, Colo.

In November 1933, he said, someone was careless with fire in the mountain watershed area above the town. The brush cover was completely destroyed. On New Year's Day, 1934, a heavy rain beat down upon the mutilated soil and brought a disastrous flood to Montrose. Thirty lives were lost and property damage ran to five million dollars. People noted that no floods came from the unburned watersheds in the vicinity which received the same storm.

U. S. MARINE CORPS NEWS

Washington, D. C. — Approximately three of every four one-year enlistees in the Marine Corps will receive four to nine months of formal specialist schooling after "boot" camp, under a new program approved by Gen. Clifton B. Cates, Commandant of the Marine Corps.

School facilities and quotas, both ground and aviation, will be rapidly expanded or reallocated in order to reach the desired ratio early in 1949. Decision to concentrate on specialist training for the 18-year olds was promoted in part by results of aptitude studies just concluded. Average general classification test scores reported for one-year enlistees now at Marine Corps recruit depots are: San Diego, Calif., 115; Parris Island, S. C., 109. Average wartime score for the Marine Corps was 104. More than 95 per cent of the first one-year enlistees assigned to Parris Island have been high school graduates.

All 18-year-olds enlisting for one year will undergo recruit training for ten weeks, then receive a short leave.

Men selected for formal technical training will then commence study in one of the following schools: Clerical, engineer, ordnance repair, automotive repair, supply-clerical, photographic, electronics, aviation, and cooking and baking. Aviation students, after a basic technical school, will be further assigned for schooling as aviation electronics, machinists and ordnance and electronics specialists.

Men not selected for formal schools will be assigned after recruit training to special tactical units of artillery and infantry, composite tank-amphibian tractor training units, or to regular aviation units, all within the United States.

Graduates of the technical schools will round out their year's service in on-the-job training and service at regular posts, stations, supply depots and air stations.

Marine Corps quota of 18-year-olds for fiscal 1949 is 6,000. The monthly quota of 500 was slightly exceeded in August. First of the group to enter training will graduate from recruit depots in mid-October.

Petroleum Stocks Showing Increase

Stocks of domestic and foreign crude petroleum at the close of week ended October 2 totaled 226,855,000 barrels, according to data reported to the Bureau of Mines, United States Department of the Interior. Compared with the total of 226,072,000 for the preceding week, this represents an increase of 783,000 barrels, comprising an increase of 942,000 barrels in stocks of domestic crude and a decrease of 159,000 barrels in stocks of foreign crude. Heavy crude-oil stocks in California, not included in the gasoline bearing stocks totaled 8,607,000 barrels, an increase of 486,000 barrels.

Current reports of the industry for the week ended October 2 indicate, according to the national production of crude oil of 5,453,000 barrels, an increase of 110,000 barrels compared with the preceding week. Total crude runs to stills are not available because of the strike in California. Runs east of California averaged 4,965,000 barrels daily, a gain of 176,000 barrels daily compared with the preceding week.

Modern Santa Claus Finds His Work Getting Tougher

By HAY BOYLE
New York—(E)—The question this Christmas isn't whether the children will continue to believe in Santa Claus.
It's whether Santa Claus can go on believing in himself. Every year he must be finding it more difficult.
No figure of modern times—except perhaps Mother Goose—has had a harder time keeping his self-confidence than the fun-loving saint. He has more critics than a French premier, and season after season he is finding himself cramped, cramped and confined by more restrictions.
Take 1947—a really tough year for Santa. Psychologists issued stern warnings that he could damage a child's whole personality by giving him the wrong gift.
And the saint was brought under municipal ordinance. In one place he was forbidden to show up at department stores for his usual pre-season warmup if he had taken a shot of rock-and-rye to guard against pneumonia. In some cities he had to have his beard fireproofed. In others they turned the fit gun on the old man—his whiskers had to be 99 and 44/100 percent pure.
The approach of the 1948 season finds new hurdles, hedges and barriers in the path of the red-suited man of good will. Mr. Claus must promise to quit promising the moon to children. And his voice is being de-boomed. The 1948 Santa no longer will bellow—“Ho! Ho! Ho!” He will titter—“Tee, hee, hee.”
These new points were decided on this week at a one-day training school for Santa Clauses held at all places—the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Nineteen Mrs. Kringle showed up—most came by taxi-cab—as well as a number of child psychologists and parent education experts.

Presbyterians At Sugar Grove Plan For Annual Rally

Sugar Grove, Oct. 11—Members of the Presbyterian church session, with their wives, held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., and made plans for the Family Sunday to be combined with Rally Day on October 17. One of the features will be award of a Bible to the largest family, mother, father and their children. Plans were also discussed for the annual Harvest Home supper in November. The pastor, Melvin Rein, conducted a devotional period, after which he gave a report of the laymen's conference held at Butler. Mrs. Stuart, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. McKay, served refreshments.
Born to Rodney and Katherine Wright Barlow, October 4, a daughter, Bonnie Lee, at their home.
Born to Milton and Ruth Schoenover McClellan, a son on October 4 at Visalia, Calif.
The Sugar Grove Child Health Center will be open at the home economics house Wednesday, October 13.
Mr. and Mrs. Travers Stohberg, daughter, Marguerite, and son, Philip, were called to Cleveland, O., Sunday by the death of Mr. Stohberg's aunt, Mrs. Axel Anderson.
Mrs. Earl Clark has returned home from Kane Community Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Abbott celebrated their golden wedding anniversary September 28, with members of their family. Warren Abbott and wife, of Wilkes-Barre, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Youngberg, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, of Sugar Grove were present at the bountiful dinner served at their hunting camp near Sandstone Springs.
Sound has been used to lull people to sleep but now for the first time it is being tested for possible use as an anesthetic. Distilling a stream of sound waves at the site the operation induces a temporary loss of sensation.

YOUR FORESTER

At about this time of the year when the falling leaves and chilly air make some of us wonder what we did with our summer's wages, sportsmen are already making plans for the not too distant big game season. And with 3,000,000 people living within a 150 mile radius of the Allegheny National Forest many requests for hunting camp sites on the forest have been received. Many of the hunters, who come a considerable distance, stop at the Ranger Station and tell me of a nice spot they have picked out on national forest land which they would like to rent for the purpose of building a hunting camp.

In every case I have had to explain that there is just one area, on the Northern District, open for such a purpose and it is located 1 1/2 miles south of Ludlow at the Hoffman Farm. While some are interested enough to secure one of the lots under a special use permit, and build according to Forest Service specifications, many more have definite areas in mind in other parts of the forest which appeal to them more. Since many special use permittees use their camps for week ends and vacations for the whole family, access-ability in relation to their homes is an important factor in choosing a site.

In order to try to cope with this ever increasing demand for cabin sites, a survey of all possible areas, where no other use in the predictable future will conflict, has been made, and a number of areas varying in capacity from 1 to 20 camps have been selected. These areas are well distributed over the Allegheny National Forest and are largely confined to back roads where the camps will be well screened from the travelling public.
Where there is a spring on a selected site it cannot be monopolized by any one user, but must be made available to all other users within the area. Unfortunately springs will be the exception rather than the rule on the areas set up, and it might prove necessary for groups of permittees to get together and drill wells on some of the areas.
It is expected that these many areas will soon be made available for occupancy by interested people.

Men Refuse to do "Women's Work" In Textile Capital

Fall River, Mass. — (AP)—A chief industrial problem in this old New England textile capital is the refusal of men to do "women's work."

It is also a leading cause of male unemployment. This is a happy hunting ground for a bachelor looking for a wife. He can pick and choose. For women outnumber men by a twelve-to-eleven margin, a ratio of the sexes opposite to that in western sections of the country.

One reason is the heavy concentration of women in garment industries here. A number of plant owners as well as union officials would like to break up this concentration. But so far they've met with little success.

"The owners originally brought in women because they worked for lower wages," said one man familiar with the industry's problems. "But now they would like to get more men. They've found men are more stable workers. And the union leaders want the men, too, because they feel men make better union members."

But many men hereabouts just won't go to work at the machines which turn out large quantities of the nation's dresses, pajamas and lingerie. They feel it is "dirty work" and dislike jobs in factories where a majority of their co-workers are women.

This is largely a local prejudice, arising from local tradition, because most of the workers in other American garment centers—such as New York City—are men. But the prejudice, however unworn, is real. There are some 2,000 men, including 800 war veterans, unemployed here. Yet the daily newspaper carries every afternoon large ads for unfilled garment factory jobs paying up to $85 a week.

"We recently tried a test experiment with 50 veterans to get them to take up garment work," a prominent citizen told me. "It hasn't worked out too well, but we're going to keep trying."

Like many New England communities, Fall River is seeking to avoid the economic mistake it made in the past of putting all its eggs in one basket—the textile business.

At one time this area was the world's leading producer of textiles. It was dependent on weaving cotton as the old south was on growing cotton.

But its markets, bolstered by the world war, collapsed in 1927-28 in the face of ruinous competition from more cheaply produced cloth manufactured in the southern states and Japan.

"We lost 50 per cent of our textile business over a ten-year period," one man said. Another put it even more succinctly:

Crunchy toasted Kellogg's All-Brain muffins laced with cheese... you'll get "traves" on these every time!

2 tablespoons melted shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1 cup Kellogg's All-Brain

1 cup sifted flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup grated American cheese

1. Combine shortening, egg and milk; add All-Brain and let soak for five minutes.
2. Sift flour with baking powder and salt; add cheese. Add to first mixture and stir only until combined.
3. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full and bake in moderately hot oven (425° F.) about 25 minutes. Yield: 9 muffins (2 1/2 inch size).

Unbeaten Warren High And Bradford Eleven To Clash Friday Night

The clash of two undefeated football machines—Warren High Dragons and the Bradford Owls—highlights a busy week end on district scholastic gridirons.

The game is slated for the Bradford field Friday night, with the kickoff at 8 o'clock. It will mark the third out-of-town appearance this season for the Dragons and also their third battle under the lights.

The Leidigmen have bowled over five opponents in a row. To have the Owls, and by even greater margins than the Dragons, so that a bang up contest is in prospect. Advance sale of tickets at the

Bus Breakdowns Jinx Red Jacket Football Jaunt To McKeesport

The Warren Red Jackets were convinced the hard way that their scheduled match with the McKeesport Olympics on the McKeesport field just wasn't supposed to be played last night.

The Red Jackets boarded a bus here in mid-afternoon for the long jaunt to McKeesport, and figured on being at the McKeesport field in plenty of time for warm-up drills prior to the 8 o'clock kickoff.

However, about 20 miles north of Butler the bus blew out a piston, leaving the squad stranded there for nearly an hour while a second catch could be summoned from Butler.

Meanwhile, squad members used the stranded bus as a dressing room to don their uniforms so there would be no delay in starting the game.

They resumed their long jaunt in the second bus, but it also broke down midway between Butler and Pittsburgh, leaving the squad stranded a second time for nearly an hour.

Finally, a third bus was rounded up in Butler, and once again the journey was resumed. The bus wound its way through East Liberty, East Pittsburgh and finally arrived at the McKeesport field at 9:25 o'clock, but everybody had gone home and the field was dark.

Local Red Jacket officials said McKeesport team management was kept informed of the progress of the game, and had held the crowd for an hour before postponing the tilt.

The game, booked as a benefit match for the pension fund of the McKeesport police, will be rescheduled at McKeesport at a later date.

Meanwhile, the Red Jackets turn their attention to Sunday's grueling battle in which they will meet the Eureka Steelers of Tarentum on Memorial Field.

The Tarentum squad is comprised of former college stars plus the cream of the crop from Tarentum, Har-Brack, New Kensington, Arnold and Freeport high schools.

Coach of the squad is Fran Martini, former Pitt and Pittsburgh Steeler star. Their record last year showed eight wins, two ties and one defeat.

More Shifts Expected In The Red Sox

Boston, Oct. 14.—(AP)—It's a cinch bet Boston Red Sox Owner Tom Yawkey, Vice President Eddie Collins, General Manager Joe Cronin and Manager Joe McCarthy will be around next season—but don't bet on anyone else except possibly some of the better players.

Yawkey couldn't hide his disappointment over losing the American League pennant, and much of the blame is being passed around to Sox and farm officials.

The shakeup in the Sox organization which began before the club was beaten out in an unprecedented ed playoff appears likely to continue. Three members of the organization are gone and the Sox, rejecting all questions, indicate the three resigned.

The three disagree and say, in effect, "we didn't jump, we were pushed."

Latest to go is Del Baker, veteran coach and onetime Detroit Tiger manager, who will be replaced by Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler, erstwhile star National League outfielder and more recently a Southern Association manager. Cuyler played under McCarthy when the latter managed the Chicago Cubs.

The Sox office, reporting the change, said Baker had resigned. At his San Antonio, Tex., home Baker retorted he had been dismissed in a telephone conversation with Cronin.

A variety of chickens that lays blue eggs has been developed by the poultry breeders.
